Bourgeois Wins Slot In Runoff

A vote canvass completed about midnight Friday by the Democratic Executive Committee that R. G. Hubbard will face Fred Bourgeois in the race Aug. 25 second primary for Supervisor Beat 5 while K. G. McCarty will run against Robert F. Lander for superintendent of education.

At press time last week the committee, which began its canvass at 10 a.m. Thursday, had already discovered that Charles A. Rues Jr., present Beat Supervisor, would face a runoff with Carl (Mutt) Miller for his position.

For official canvass of Aug. 4 primary, see Page 4.

Fire Hazard Work Slated At Bay High

City School Board opened bids recently advertised for meeting Thursday night, authorized Superintendent J. D. McCulloch to proceed with recommendations of Gulfport Fire Chief Harold H. Lacy to eliminate fire hazards at Bay High School.

Lacy's recommendations included fire extinguishers in the halls spaced no more than 100 feet from any given point, also in the cafeteria, gymnasium and auditorium. He said a pile of mattresses in the basement of the gymnasium constituted a major fire hazard and urged immediate removal. He also suggested an additional fire escape ladder from the second floor.

In his letter, Lacy commended McCulloch for an exceptionally clean school, virtually free of hazards.

The action came out of an earlier meeting at which the board had instructed McCulloch to have the building appraised by an impartial party qualified to give an opinion.

The board rejected all bids for milk, bread and janitorial supplies and left it to the discretion of the Superintendent to make these purchases, since the bids were so involved, especially in the janitorial supplies.

A split purchase order was granted to Borden Milk Company of Biloxi and Brown's Velvety operated by W. A. Scarborough of Bay St. Louis. McCulloch said he would probably continue to buy bread from Colonial Bakery of Gulfport, since local bakeries can not compete in prices and quality.

Sea Coast Echo's bid for publishing the school newspaper was accepted. McCulloch said the paper's sponsor would work out details with the Echo.

Cue Oil Company got the bid for gas, oil, tires and batteries and Piazza's Texaco Station to wash and grease school trucks.

FRICION AT COMMITTEE MEETING—Sidney Bourgeois, left, Democratic Executive Committee member from Beat 5, excitedly defends himself against charges by Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard, second primary candidate for this position, that Bourgeois submitted a list of precinct managers compiled by his brother, Fred Bourgeois, Hubbard's opponent in the runoff. Bourgeois said he was representing Hancock County, not his family.

Hospital Job On Schedule, Board Told

Hancock County supervisors were assured Monday by architect Wilfred W. Dawson that construction on the new Hancock County Hospital has progressed according to schedule, but is several days behind now because of heavy rains.

Dawson appeared before the board to present estimate forms for payment. He said that he was personally supervising and screening the material used for the hospital to see that it is exactly as specified.

Warrants approved on a motion by R. G. Hubbard, supervisor beat 5, seconded by Mrs. Frank Keller, supervisor beat 2, were $40,136.15 to Perillat-Rickey Construction Co., Inc., contractors for the hospital, and $566.52 to Dawson. Payment was made from the hospital building fund.

The board also adopted a final resolution directing the issuance of the $75,000 hospital bonds issue sold to Lewis and Co. of Jackson July 27, on a motion by Hubbard, seconded by Charles Russ, supervisor beat 1.

The bonds are to be printed by Security-Columbian Banknote Co. of St. Louis, Mo., for $130, Clerk of Courts A. C. Mitchell reported.

In other matters, the supervisors approved a request by J. D. McCulloch, city school superintendent, to rent the auditorium of the Agricultural Center building on Necaise Avenue for a classroom during September.

It's Central Avenue Now Waveland Council Rules

Renaming Railroad Avenue as Central Avenue was approved by the Waveland board of aldermen Thursday night after a poll or residents along the thoroughfare shown that name was acceptable to the majority.

Routine matters occupied the bulk of the session, adjourned from the preceding Tuesday because of conflict with the primary election, and council recessed until 7 p.m. Monday to complete equalization of the real and personal property tax assessment rolls.

Action on three bids for an electric adding machine was postponed until Mrs. Paul Henley, clerk in the water and gas dept. for which the machine was being purchased, could examine the bids and tell the council which machine she preferred.

The low bid, $342, was submitted by Johnson Office Supply Inc. of Billet with an alternate of $249. Other bidding were National Cash Register Co. of Gulfport, $396, with alternate of $306; and Burroughs Corp. of New Orleans, $354.

Council reviewed four registered letters written by C. O. Dufour, secretary, to residents owning vacant lots for which Council had received petitions requesting they be cleared.

Letters sent to Roland Pfeiffer, regarding lots 51 and 54 in Tansette Subdivision; E. V. Richards, Lots 14, 17 and 19, 2nd Ward; Mrs. Cecilia W. Loupre Jr., lots 15 and 16, Waveland Terrace Subdivision; and Jules A. Sevin, Lot 14, Waveland Terrace Subdivisions, requested lots be cleared and cleaned within 10 days from the date of the letter or the city will do it and bill the owners.

Council also reviewed a request to Wayne Alliston of the county board of health for action on complaints from two residents about offensive odors from the hog pen at Roberts Street and Sears Avenue.

Council decided to place a water depth sign by the shelter house at the end of Coleman Avenue after reviewing this request in a letter signed by a Waveland visitor.

A review of the town's financial statement showed a balance of $6,751.49 in the town fund, $67 in the advertising fund and $1,366.50 in the municipal aid fund. Deposits during July totaled $1,243.49 and warrants were issued for $4,692.90.

Lavinghouse Nominated For Beat 3 Supervisor

The resignation of Chairman Douglas Bourgeois and election of Joseph Benvenuti as his successor, the withdrawal of Johnson Shaw from the Beat 3 supervisor's race and a written protest from Beat 5 supervisor R. G. Hubbard, over election managers, highlighted a hectic session of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee Tuesday morning.

The letter of resignation from Bourgeois, which stated reasons of health for withdrawal, was presented to secretary Joe Colson by Beat 5 committeeman Sidney Bourgeois, who moved it be accepted and Joseph Benvenuti be appointed to the committee as chairman. L. E. Miller immediately seconded the motion.

A correction as to parliamentary procedure was addressed to the committee by attorney Sam Favre Jr. and Hubbard, both spectators, that the committee had no temporary chairman and all motions must be addressed to the chair.

Elliott Casanova Jr. was nominated by H. G. Davis Sr. as temporary chairman.

The committee then accepted Bourgeois' resignation and S. Bourgeois nominated Benvenuti to fill the vacancy. O. V. Moran was nominated by Colson, the other Beat 5 representative.

Benvenuti was elected 7-2, and Casanova asked for a motion to relieve him as temporary chairman. S. Bourgeois immediately complied, seconded by Miller.

The election of Benvenuti as temporary chairman followed on a motion by S. Bourgeois, seconded by Miller.

Turning to other matters, Charles Lavinghouse was declared the Democratic nominee for Supervisor Beat 3 when a letter from Ares J. Hoda Sr. third man in the race, stated he did not choose to run because of insufficient time for a campaign.

Shaw was scheduled to run against Lavinghouse in the second primary until he gave notice of withdrawal. The Beat 3 supervisor's slot has been in the Shaw family for some 45 years, his father, the late Calvin Shaw, serving before Shaw was elected.

Hubbard, second primary candidate for Supervisor Beat 5, complained that he was denied equal representation in poll managers in the first primary Aug. 4 and appealed to the committeemen to recognize Section 3115 of the Mississippi Code which provides for equal representation.

A heated discussion erupted between Hubbard and S. Bourgeois when Hubbard accused him of submitting a list of managers compiled by his brother, Fred Bourgeois, Hubbard's opponent Beat 5 supervisor in the runoff.

Bourgeois emphatically denied Hubbard's accusation saying he was representing Hancock County, not his family.

A motion to accept all of the precinct managers who served in the first primary was offered by Casanova during the general hubbub following the Hubbard-Bourgeois argument and carried 7-3 despite protests from Colson that many of the managers

Water Rate Hike Granted For Clermont

The Mississippi Public Service Commission this week granted to the Clermont Harbor Waterworks the full increase in its rate schedule requested last spring and directed that the revised structure be effective as of last May 1.

Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the waterworks, said the order is dated Aug. 10. While the petitioner had asked for the changes to be effective in May, they were not charged under bond pending the commission's ruling and Phillips said he will advise the waterworks to bill its customers for the additional charges commencing at that time.

Including a $3.25 hike in the overall consumption charge for the year placing it at $21.25 per customer, the new schedule provides for a $6.50 installation fee and $6.50 for reestablishment of service for failure to pay, etc.

The commission cited the hearing on the case May 22 and declared that in its opinion the public interest would be served by authorizing the reasonable rate structure requested.

Considerable opposition was stirred in Clermont Harbor when the rate changes were proposed and a delegation of consumers appeared before the PSC in protest.

Supplies Are Exhausted Blood Bank Issues Urgent Plea

A blood drawing to replenish its exhausted supply is planned by the Hancock County Blood Bank for Sept. 16 at the Youth Center, pending approval of the Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans.

A special drive for cash and blood donations among local civic clubs and the general public is being planned, Chairman Eugene Dillman told the blood bank's board at its meeting Monday night. Checks for $1 or more should be sent to P. O. Box 254, Bay St. Louis.

He emphasized that Negroes as well as whites are being urged to contribute. "In the past we have not had as good response from the Negroes as expected. Blood from the bank is available to all people in Hancock County. We are planning to meet soon with some of the Negro civic clubs and explain the program in hopes of promoting interest."

Hancock County is presently receiving blood borrowed through the blood bank from other sources.

James Normand, board member, disclosed that the walk-in blood bank is exhausted also and said it will be hard to get anyone in that category who has not given blood in the last 30 days.

Education and Politics

In his talk before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club yesterday Mr. Thomas Richardson, native of Mississippi, made an excellent argument for improved education in Mississippi. In so doing he pointed up many facts not palatable even for one only recently moved to this State. Many are facts that Mississippians need to know—the State's bottom rank in education when tested by a variety of criteria.

Nevertheless Mr. Richardson drew some conclusions from his facts with which many could agree and outlined some pertinent facts. With what appears to be his ultimate conclusion, (a two-party system in Mississippi is necessary for proper representation of the PEOPLE in the State legislature and consequently for the needed improvement in education) this editor strongly disagrees.

Even a cursory check of those States with two-party (7) systems will find that a much higher percentage of candidates are nominated by conventions in those states than in the oft maligned one-party States. And conventions, like political party committees, are much more the tool of the professional politician and ward boss.

The reason for this situation is simple. In a primary the opponents frequently say unkind things of each other. This furnishes ammunition for the opposing party's candidate in the succeeding general election. If a party dominates the area involved it doesn't worry about this, but if in advance it seems dubious as to which party's candidate is likely to win, in the interest of party victory the very frequent result is that one political party decides on the safer convention system for nomination, which then usually forces the other major party into the same decision.

With your comments on Mississippi education, Mr. Richardson, we could find little fault. With some of your unfavorable comparisons between our adopted State and other States we might disagree, at least as to cause and present direction. With your argument essentially advocating a strong Republican Political Party in Mississippi we dissent. There may be some good reason for a strong Mississippi Republican Party (we can't think of one), but the PEOPLE have more say on the average when there are primaries, and primaries are more likely in the maligned one-party States like Connecticut's neighbor, New Hampshire.

Your Life at Stake

The Hancock County Flood Bank has been of inestimable value to the county's residents. It has saved lives and money. At the moment it is bankrupt in two ways—no blood in the bank and no money in the till. On a temporary basis it is borrowing blood until Sept. 16. Arrangements for facilities for drawing blood from donors have been completed for Sept. 16.

The Echo hopes all eligible adults in the area will donate blood on Sept. 16. They don't have to wait until then to give the needed money. The life you save could be yours.

Voting Machines Could Help

Last week the Echo suggested that voting machines would be a good idea except for the possibility of their expense. Elsewhere on this page, under "Views from Other Papers", are reprinted two editorials on this subject from geographically distant Mississippi newspapers.

In both Jackson and Lowndes Counties, where these two newspapers are printed, the election results were complete, not just hours, but days ahead of Hancock County. Nevertheless, the Echo does not feel that the cost of voting machines is justified for our smaller precincts, though after last week seriously suggests that Hancock County officials should look into the question of voting machine costs and, if not prohibitive, purchase them for the precincts usually having a large vote.

Some local precinct officials may disagree, but after the time spent by some of them last week in tallying votes on several hot days, we would question their motive if they do.

Rumors and Candidates

At best rumors are dangerous because so often either untrue or distorted. During political campaigns rumors are particularly numerous and are especially likely to be untrue.

During the last two weeks this editor has heard rumor after rumor about some candidate. In trying to learn the actual fact personally or through a reporter with two exceptions, and one candidate has already been elected, he has found none that are not false or so distorted, apparently purposefully, as to amount to a lie.

Rumors are dangerous anytime—during a political campaign it is wise to question ALL of them and THEIR source.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

A simple problem in arithmetic:

If the Supervisor of Beat 2 could blot out 23 miles of road during a three-year administration, how many miles of road could he blot out in return for the improvement of Beat 4 during the same period of 12 years?

From the records of the road primary, it would seem that the Supervisor of Beat 4 are willing to blot out the road they have received in return for their own efforts during the past 12 years. Let's hope that they are only willing to blot out.

From Our Files

By Gone Days

10 YEARS AGO

Aug. 12, 1949—Pistols bristled and blackjacks bulged Tuesday night at a meeting of Waveland's board of aldermen. Peace and order was maintained simply by the presence of Hancock County Sheriff B. D. Johnson and six deputies. Factional politics was the cause of the tension, particularly the question of who—the mayor or town marshal—should have the authority to appoint and direct law enforcement personnel within the municipal government.

25 YEARS AGO

Aug. 10, 1934—News of the appointment of Harry C. Glover Jr., more affectionately known as Wop, as coach of St. Stanislaus College for the coming year of 1934-35 Monday of this week has been received with much interest and local pleasure.

Views from Other Papers

WE NEED THEM NOW

We can think of no better argument in favor of voting machines than the long, arduous tally of the more than 11,000 Jackson County votes cast in Tuesday's election.

In three precincts, more than 600 votes were cast—878 at 11th Street, 636 at Eastlawn, both in Pascagoula, and 617 at South Ocean Springs.

In a number of others the total exceeded 500.

Almost 90 candidates were on the long ballot. As a result, election managers and clerks toiled until 10 a.m. Wednesday before the count was complete at Ocean Springs. It was 9 a.m. Wednesday before it was finished at 11th Street, 7 a.m. at Eastlawn.

It has been completed in only one precinct at midnight. That was at Fontainebleau, where less than 100 voted.

Only 11 of the county's 30 precincts had finished at 2 a.m., according to circuit clerk Verdis Ramsey.

Chances of error in a multi-hour count of a long ballot are tremendous. This is no reflection on clerks and managers. It's elementary that when a person calls or tallies for 10 or 12 straight hours without sleep his mind is fuzzy and reflexes slow.

Voting machines would end this.

They would speed up balloting, eliminate most human error and make results of the vote known within an hour.

Some time ago the county Democratic executive committee recommended to supervisors that the machines be used.

We believe they should follow through on the recommendation at least in municipal precincts.

Machines cost about $1500 each and can be acquired on a lease-purchase arrangement as is being done in Adams County, only county in the state that uses them.

This would lessen the initial financial impact. Saving in election costs brought about through use of the machines would help defray rental costs.

We believe also redistricting is needed to reduce the number of voters in some precincts, particularly in areas of past and potential growth.

The three precincts above in which more than 600 votes were cast last week are a case in point.

In the 1955 gubernatorial primary, 365 votes were cast at the 11th Street precinct, which is little more than half the 678 who voted Tuesday. At Eastlawn, the number increased from 397 to 636; from 488 to 617 at S. Ocean Springs.

By establishing new precincts in these and other areas the number of voters in each could be reduced and at the same time allowance made for continued growth.

Ocean Springs still has only two precincts. In the 1951 primary they handled 773 voters. Tuesday the number had increased to 1169.

In the 1951 primary, Pascagoula balled in five precincts. Today the number has increased to nine but voter strength has almost tripled.

There can be little argument on the need for redistricting. It should be undertaken without delay and planned with an eye to the future.

And while on the subject of precincts and voting, we would like to pay a small tribute to a group of unsung—and sometimes unappreciated—heroes.

They are the managers and clerks who handled Tuesday's voting. Many worked a straight 24 hours or more. Their pay was $3 in precincts where less than 300 voted and $5 in those in which it topped 300.

That adds up to about 20-cents an hour for some of them. Calling that a token payment would be an overstatement. They merit appreciation by every citizen.—Pascagoula CHRONICLE-STAR.

VOTING MACHINES

It's time for voting machines! When 7 o'clock Wednesday morning arrived and four of Lowndes County's precincts were still out, this newspaper was convinced the time for voting machines had arrived.

With many new names being added to the voting roster each month in this fast growing city and county, it is simple to imagine what tabulation tribulations we'll encounter four years from now.

It's not fantastic to think that it will require several days to complete the tabulations, for this is exactly what happened down in Hinds County.

We haven't ascertained the cost of voting machines, but we do know they will cost more—or rather "lease" more, if that be the case—than the small five dollars each election official receives for counting votes all night in Columbus boxes. At small boxes the pay is $3 per official.

But whatever the price, the convenience to the press, radio, television, wire services—and most of all to the general public who want to know the returns before they have forgotten who they voted for—will be more than worth it.

Voting machines also have advantages other than offering returns earlier. They pare down considerably the possibilities of error—and although we have never heard of it in this county and never expect it—the chance for fraud.

My Favorite Prayer

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS
Governor of the State of Michigan

Bless us today, O Father, with the realization of Thy presence. As we look in humble paths of service, grant us that consciousness of Thy challenge to each of our lives which shall redeem any labor from seeming trivial, and so change for us the tragedy and chaos of the world without Thee into a prolonged field of honor.

Grant us, we pray Thee, to taste in these homeliest activities the joy of being the very knights of God. Give to us now and always that glorious vision of Thy fellowship which shall strengthen our courage, and transform our halting faith into Christ's certainty of the meaning of life. Through the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

1st Baptist Sets

Vacation School

Vacation Bible School at First Baptist Church for youths 13 through 17 will be Aug. 7 through 21, according to the Rev. Franklin Atkinson, pastor.

Mrs. C. J. Lader will conduct the school assisted by a faculty from the church. Sessions will be from 7 to 9 p.m.

The use of voting machines have been approved by the legislature and were used for the first time in the state during the past election by Adams County.

John Herbers of the United Press International in Jackson, stated yesterday that in his opinion it would be a very progressive move if Mississippi would make wider use of the voting machine.

He added that all the precincts from Adams County—Natchez the county seat—were turned in before 10:30 Tuesday night.

And we were still going in Lowndes County after breakfast Wednesday morning.

And according to reports, by Friday afternoon, there were still 73 precincts in the state still unaccounted for.

Counting thousands of votes—with more thousands added as the population count increases—is a needless waste of time and is out of date as kerosene lamps.

The voting machine proposition should be thoroughly explored and studied. It's worth it.—Columbus COMMERCIAL DISPATCH.

RE-ELECT
R. G. "MANN" HUBBARD
SUPERVISOR - BEAT

When I first offered myself to serve on the Board of Supervisors, it was believed I could make a contribution which would carry our county forward better things. Politics has never been my career. For twenty-one years I worked for the Railway Express and the L & N Railroad (in the capacity of truck driver and operator) until I ventured in business for myself thirteen years ago.

My sole motive for seeking public office was my sincere belief that a government could best be run in a business-like manner if men in office would serve the PEOPLE and the COMMUNITY unselfishly, with no thought of PERSONAL gain.

So many men in our midst spend a great deal of time and effort working in civic and church organizations. The only thing they get in return is the satisfaction knowing they have contributed in some way to the betterment and progress of the nation, and the good that results therefrom.

Likewise, for the effort I put forth as your Supervisor for the past 7½ years, I am satisfied knowing that I have done my part, unstintingly and unselfishly, in making a better community. We have come a long way! We can continue to go forward if the best official cannot do the job alone.

In the past few years, I believe there has been a tremendous increase in the Mr. Citizen has shown in his governing bodies. You are more aware that your government CAN be heard. Every man and woman in our community who goes to polls to vote is given a choice of the kind of government he or she wants.

That's why I say,

"THE FUTURE OF YOUR COUNTY DEPENDS UPON YOUR SELECTION OF ITS OFFICIALS."

THINK CAREFULLY - SELECT WISELY!"

THANKS

I WISH TO TAKE THIS MEANS OF EXPRESSING MY SINCEREST THANKS AND APPRECIATION FOR THE WONDERFUL VOTE AND SUPPORT GIVEN ME IN THE PRIMARY ON AUGUST 4TH FOR TAX ASSESSOR OF HANCOCK COUNTY.

TO THOSE OF YOU WHO FOR SOME REASON OR OTHER COULD NOT SUPPORT ME I HOLD NO MALICE OR ILL WILL AND I SINCERELY ASK THAT YOU GIVE ME YOUR SUPPORT IN THE SECOND PRIMARY ON AUGUST 25TH.

I HAVE SERVED YOU FOR THE PAST 12 YEARS AS YOUR DEPUTY ASSESSOR AND FEEL THAT FROM THE TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE I HAVE GAINED OVER THESE YEARS I AM QUALIFIED TO SERVE YOU AS YOUR TAX ASSESSOR.

THANKING YOU AGAIN FOR THE MANY COURTESIES EXTENDED ME DURING THIS CAMPAIGN I EARNESTLY SOLICIT YOUR VOTE AND INFLUENCE IN THE SECOND PRIMARY ON AUGUST 25TH.

56 Enroll for Red Cross Courses in Water Safety

Terrific describes the response this week to lifesaving classes sponsored by the American Red Cross as 56 students signed up for the junior and senior courses from Roland Lopez, water safety instructor from Camp Salmon, La.

Three classes daily at Gulf View Haven pool include junior lifesaving for boys, 9-12 a.m., junior class for girls, 2-4 p.m. and a mixed senior class at 4-6 p.m.

Lopez, who is physical education teacher at Ruston Academy in Havana, Cuba, also teaches survival, water safety and judo to the Cuban Navy. Each summer for the past seven years he has come to the U. S. to work in Boy Scout camps. He is also a scout master in Havana. This year was his third year to instruct scouts at Camp Salmon. The local Red Cross secured Lopez when John Rutherford Jr., acting as Red Cross waterfront safety chairman, was attending Camp Salmon with Scout Troop 208. Rutherford knew that plans for the safety and lifesaving course were being held up for lack of an instructor so he asked Lopez to come. Lopez said he readily accepted because he remembered Bay St. Louis as a nice town from a visit several years ago.

Upon completion of the life-saving course, students will have Red Cross qualifications to be lifeguards. Red Cross lifeguards are recognized anywhere in the world, and most places require lifeguards to hold the Red Cross qualifications.

In the course students will learn safety in small craft, rescue methods, artificial respiration, personal safety when rescuing, how to recover a submerged victim and special forms of rescue.

Enrolled in the course are: Dale Sellier, Jean Martin, Emmett DeMoran, Howard Simmons Jr., Wayne Thomas, Lucien Kidd, John Rutherford Jr., Robert Camore Jr., James Fillingame, James Mayfield Jr., Henry Prevost, Rima L. asking that the Bayou Galare Road running from U. S. 90 to the old Kiln Road be declared a part of the county system was accepted by the board. The petition stated that the road has been used for more than 50 years and affords a means of entrance and exit for landowners.

The board directed Roland Weston to survey the road and file a plat and complete report. Hubbard explained that this was the usual procedure before a road could be declared a part of the county system.

The supervisors recessed for a day to day session to receive tax assessment objections with a business meeting scheduled for Aug. 27.

12 Lettermen Returning To Stanislaus Eleven

A successful season appears in the offing for St. Stanislaus team as 12 lettermen return for another season on the gridiron, according to Athletic Moderator, Brother Phillip.

Athletes are expected to report to the school Aug. 23 to draw equipment. First practice session will be the following morning. Brother Phillip said coaches fear a decline in the team's offense if J. B. Lotacano, big 195-pound fullback cannot play. Lotacano received a knee injury last year in the homecoming game with East Jefferson Parish, La. Romulo Artigues will probably be in the quarterback slot, alternating with Lotacano. Coach Ruben Ruiz plans to switch Artigues to half back and play Lotacano at quarter to relieve some of the strain from his injured knee.

Among Most Scenic

Two highways which cross Mississippi have been voted in the top four of the most scenic of all America's roads.

Highway 61, which runs up and down the western edge of the Magnolia State and Highway 90, across the Gulf Coast rim of the state, merited second and fourth place mention, respectively.

Key letterman returning for action will be Pat Modersohn, center, Wayne Cleveland at guard and Charles Gaudin, tackle. This year's schedule is:

Sept. 11, Redemptorist at N. O. here.
Sept. 18, Vigor of Mobile, there.
Sept. 25, Catholic High of B. F. here.
Oct. 2, Nicholls of N. O., there.
Oct. 9, McGill of Mobile, there.
Oct. 16, Notre Dame of Biloxi, there.
Oct. 24, Escambia of Pensacola, here.
Oct. 30, Pensacola High, there.
Nov. 13, St. Aloysius of N. O., here.
Nov. 20, Bogalusa High, here.
Homecoming.

City Pushes Unpaid Taxes

Every effort is being made by the city tax office to get people to pay real estate taxes for schools before the delinquent tax publication deadline Aug. 19, according to Commissioner Warren Traub. To prevent public auction of the property, the deadline is Sept. 18.

Traub said his office has mailed over 275 letters and employed two girls for three days in calling delinquent taxpayers. Still over 200 people, representing approximately $2,000 in outstanding taxes, have not paid.

He said local schools have their operating budgets on collection of these taxes. These taxes, now collected by the city tax office, were formerly collected by the Sheriff.

Traub listed two main reasons for so many delinquent taxpayers: They think when they have paid taxes at the sheriff's office that is all they have to pay and some are new owners for whom there is insufficient address to send notices.

Hospital Board In Secret Meet

The Hancock County Hospital Board spent major portion of its meeting Tuesday night in secret session with Dr. A. K. Martinolich, secretary of the hospital's medical staff. Both Martinolich and board attorney Sam Favre Jr. said later the closed meeting involved a "little clinical problem."

Closing its doors at 8 p.m., on the proclamation of Charles Lavigne, acting chairman in the absence of K. W. Pepperdene, the board conferred with Martinolich until 8:47 p.m. Other board members absent were Mrs. T. P. Ward and Hubert Thigpen.

During the session beginning at 7 p.m. which was open to the public, board treasurer T. T. Reboul Jr. reported the cash docket for July, $2,571.72, was $356.61 more than the preceding month.

He explained that an emergency purchase of an adding machine and icebox had been made during July. Reboul said lightning had struck the old icebox, burning out the motor and that the adding machine previously used had been borrowed from the Courthouse and had to be returned.

Biloxi, low bidder at $110 on a mower, was awarded that contract while butane gas bids were held for study after Petrolane Gas Co. of New Orleans was low $10.75 cents a gallon with Super-tane next at 11 cents. Cue Oil Co. bidding 26 cents for regular and 29.5 cents for premium gas got that bid in preference to the tank price on date of delivery offer from Standard Oil. Other bids awarded were to Cue Oil for oil and grease; National Fleet Service of Jacksonville, Fla., tires and tubes.

A YEAR IN AUSTRIA—Patti White, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul White of Felicita Street, looks over a scrapbook compiled during a year's stay at Ybbs, Austria. Patti who returned home Thursday, was an exchange student sponsored by the International Christian Youth Exchange.

1 Exchange Student Comes, Another Home from Abroad

Of their German exchange student, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Mayfield of Waveland, parents of four strapping boys, said "At first we wanted a girl, but now we're happy to get a boy."

Detlef Quandt, 18, of Bismarck, Germany, will be a senior at Bay High School this year. He is one of 69 German students in a program by the International Christian Youth Exchange to come to the U. S. for a year of study in high school. Although Detlef is Lutheran he is being sponsored by Christ Episcopal Church, of which the Mayfields are members.

Detlef has two brothers, one, 19, who is studying theology and is the fifth generation in the family to enter the ministry. Detlef's father, who was a Lutheran minister, died during World War II. His younger brother, 15, goes to a boarding school in Germany.

In response to the question, "How does the American household differ from that of Germany?" Detlef answered, "It is difficult to know, but I find it very nice here." He added, "We have planned days in Germany while the day is much more informal here." Detlef is somewhat amazed at the American custom of "in between meals."

Being used to the course breads of Europe, Detlef is having difficulty getting used to the American wheat bread. The Mayfields are planning to go shopping for some rye or pumpernickel bread.

Detlef observed also that Europeans do not put salt in their butter because they like bread with butter and jams, but do not like the taste of "salt and sweet together." At the thought of this he made a face. Among things he likes that he does not have very often at home are grape juice, peaches and other fruits. Unlike most foreigners Detlef does not care for the American hot dog.

Detlef flew to New Orleans from New York. He said he loves flying. He is also very interested in politics and agriculture. He plans to spend at least a month on several local farms next summer. He left today with Howard Simmons for the state County Agents' meeting at Mississippi State University where he will visit the experimental farm.

Mayfield reported that on Detlef's first day here he could not understand a word anyone in the family said and they couldn't understand him. But in the few days since, "He has improved 200 per cent." He added, "We have rearranged our conversation only slightly." Detlef said, "All Americans talk too fast, but girls are the fastest of all."

Detlef studied English for seven years in Germany. Other subjects he likes are history, German, sports, music, and school choir. He has also studied Latin and Greek and was active in Boy Scout work. Following his year at Bay High he will return (Cont. on Page 8)

Wife Withdraws Complaint on Mate

Charges of assault and battery with intent to kill were withdrawn against Isaac D. Harp by his wife, Mrs. Sue Harp, and the case was dismissed by Justice of the Peace C. W. Brunson.

Harp was scheduled to appear before Brunson at Aaron Academy last Thursday in connection with the pistol-wounding of his wife on July 16. She suffered a shattered bone in her right arm, but was released from the hospital July 18.

July on the motion of Dominick Sonler, seconded by Albert Grass.

Sonler, with the approval of the rest of the Councilmen except Anthony Bourgeois who was absent, directed Dufour to tell town marshals, Ben Bourgeois and Fred Bourgeois, that Sunday traffic at St. Clare's Church would have to be directed by them instead of hiring an additional man as in the past.

A motion by Sonler that the gas and water truck be placed in a garage every night was approved.

Mayor Garfield Ladner suggested that when reporting a street light out, Mississippi Power Co. be notified if authorities can not be reached at Town Hall.

Building permits were approved as follows:

Alma Morel, house on part of lot 23, Ward 2, $4,000; Harry Tracey, house on lot 6 in Sales Ward, $2,000; W. E. Teaster, addition on lot 24 in Audry Ward, $500; W. G. Stritzinger, house on lot 25 in Audry Ward, $1,000; M. C. Whitman, house on lot 26 in Audry Ward, $1,000; Mrs. M. Lala, frame house in Bunny Park Subdivision, $4,000; Joseph Just, frame house in Bunny Park Subdivision, $3,000; Catherine Steger, frame house in Roberts Subdivision, $3,000; E. J. Griffin screen porch in Audry Place, $500; Ernest C. L. Herwig Jr., frame camp house in Bunny Park Subdivision, $800; Paul F. Oatis, house in Bunny Park, $2,000; Edgar J. d'Amico, compact garage in Ward 3, $1,000; E. M. Barrouse, frame house in Waveland Park Subdivision, $2,500.

Town Attorney Dan M. Russell Jr. advised that council should inspect property and access for what they considered it worth if there was any doubt of the value shown on the building permit.

Scafide Named Coast 2nd Veep

Mayor John A. Scafide was elected second vice president of the Gulf Coast Municipalities Association in its ladies night meeting Monday.

Other officers are Mayor Billy Meadows, Gulfport, president; Alderman John Seymour Ocean Springs, first vice president, and Commissioner Vincent Ros, Pascagoula, secretary-treasurer.

Local officials and their wives attending were Mayor and Mrs. Scafide and Commissioner and Mrs. Warren Traub.

Mayor Scafide attended the Mississippi Municipal Association executive committee meeting Wednesday in Jackson.

Waveland Baptists Schedule Revival

The Rev. Clyde Jackson Woods of Poplar Flat Baptist Church in Louisville, will conduct the Waveland Baptist Chapel revival Aug. 30 through Sept. 4, according to the Rev. Jack C. Hughes, pastor.

Woods is a graduate of Howard College and New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and has held pastorates in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Hughes conducted a revival at the Poplar Flat Church July 26 through Aug. 1.

RUSSELL ELLIOTT CANDIDATE FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

TO THE PEOPLE OF BEAT FIVE:

The tremendous support of 1287 votes I received in the 1st Primary Election, placing me as the leading candidate for Justice of the Peace in the 2nd Primary, certainly is convincing of my many friends and their display of confidence in my pledges to operate a fair and honorable Court of Justice.

I most humbly thank each and every one of you and ask that you continue to support me so that I will be elected on August 25th. Will you please contact your friends requesting everybody to rally to my support with their influence and vote?

Especially now do I call on my fellow Veterans, who have served their country as I have, to solicit support for me making it possible that I can continue serving our country by serving our community.

I repeat that I will always strive to elevate this office of Justice of the Peace to one of dignity and honor. Also that I will continue my efforts in behalf of the betterment of conditions for our youth.

I definitely feel each citizen should vote their own convictions and that their vote be cast upon the qualifications of a candidate so that our community can be best served. You be the judge and judge the candidate for yourselves. I know you will find I have these necessary qualifications.

You have placed me in the position of leading candidate in the Second Primary. I earnestly and humbly ask that you continue to endorse me to a successful conclusion by electing me, with your influence and support now and your vote on August 25th.

Thanking You Sincerely,

Russell Elliott

Along with James Jr., Detlef will go out for football beginning the second week in August. He has never played the American brand of football, but has played the European game, soccer, which arouses comparable enthusiasm in Germany.
He also plans to go out for basketball and track. Germans, he said, do not play baseball, but he has sometimes seen American soldiers in Germany playing the game.
Mayfield observed that four sons, James Jr., 16, Gautier, 14, Thomas 12 and George 6 the family routine is not such that it would be easy to have a girl. Asked if Mrs. Mayfield didn't count, he replied with a laugh that she does, fishes, plays ball and fusses with the best of the boys, Detlef included.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the voters of Beat 4 for the job they gave me in the First Primary on August 4, 1958. The help and cooperation of my many friends was so hard in my behalf.

The people of Beat 4 made me the leading candidate in the First Primary. You honored me with 433 votes over my nearest opponent.

This trend in the voting indicates that the people of Beat 4 definitely want a change in the office of Supervisor.

I urge my friends to redouble your efforts in the Primary and ask that each of you who voted for me in the First Primary to now vote for me in the Second Primary and make victory certain on August 25th, 1959.

Sincerely,
James A. Neca

Miss Scafide, Bride-Elect, Entertained

A luncheon Saturday given by Mrs. E. P. Larrux and Mrs. Joseph Karamac at the former's home marked the start of an extensive series of premarital entertaining for Miss Alice Scafide, bride-elect.

Miss Scafide's marriage to Lawrence Richard Kramenberg will be an event of Sept. 12 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Her parents, Mayor and Mrs. John A. Scafide, will give a reception afterwards at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Classmates of Miss Scafide from St. Joseph's Academy composed the guest list for the luncheon Saturday. The Larrux home was decorated with arrangements of pink carnations which also were used as a centerpiece for the dining table. The honor guest were an aqua flowered sheath and her mother was in a white print dress. They were presented with shoulder bouquets of pink flowers.

Mesdames Mildred Piazza and Mary Vassalli will be hostesses at a linen shower Sunday for the bride-elect, entertaining at the Vassalli home. Next Wednesday, she will be feted at a luncheon given by Mesdames L. L. Kergosien and Joseph S. Blaise at the Blaise residence.

A lingerie shower for Miss Scafide is planned on Aug. 27 by Mesdames Warren E. Traub and John C. Glover. Mrs. Theo Tudary and her daughter, Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr., will give a kitchen shower for her Sept. 2 while Mrs. Charles E. Carter will be hostess at the bridesmaids' luncheon at her home on Sept. 6.

The after rehearsal party will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Alden Mauffrey Sept. 10 at their home.

Weston's Betrothal to Mr. Bailey Announced

Announcement is being made today by Mrs. Elizabeth Weston of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Amelia Weston, to Raymond Bailey of New Orleans.

Miss Weston is a graduate of Columbia College at Columbia, Mo., and received her bachelor's degree from the University of Arkansas where she was associated with Kappa Gamma and Gamma Sigma Epitaph societies.

Her fiancé holds a B.S. in mechanical engineering from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and a master's and doctorate from Louisiana State University. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Gamma Sigma Epitaph societies.

MISS AMELIA WESTON

Region Auxiliary Plans Busy Calendar of Events

Miss Delta Jacobi, delegate to the state convention, reported on her trip to the session when she returned to the region Monday night at the Legion Hotel. She was accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert Gayas, president.

Announcement was made of several activities now being planned. Members are needed to assist with the Labor Day carnival at the Elrod Veterans Administration Hospital and the September party for veterans at the Legion Hotel. The annual Harvest Ball is scheduled tentatively in October.

Mrs. A. J. Pitale Jr. and Mrs. R. J. Reinke, co-chairmen for the annual membership drive now under way, urged that dues be paid.

Mrs. James Pfeiffer, secretary, was appointed chairman for the sick committee. Mrs. Reinke, rehabilitation chairman,

Joe Buttolph's Farm at Fenton Aids Mississippi's Growing Egg Production

A part of the 17 million increase in egg production in Mississippi could be credited to such factors as the Joe Buttolph family of Hancock County's Fenton community.

Under a contract with the Mississippi Federation of Co-ops, Buttolph sells his eggs through the Coastal Co-op at Gulfport. "Gathering three or four times, we get about 1,000 eggs a day. These are picked up every two to three days by the Co-op's refrigerated truck and taken to an egg receiving station in Hattiesburg for candling, grading and packaging," Buttolph said. "I've only been actively engaged in egg production for seven months now, so I'm using my first group of chickens. We're getting a 78 per cent egg production which is still increasing."

Buttolph uses the Babcock Bantam, a fairly new strain of white Leghorns. These chickens are registered and any hatchery selling them has to pay royalties.

"This breed is cultivated for an immediate laying period of 12 months after which they are sold through the Co-op as hens. After the 12 month period the egg production falls below 70 per cent and it's more economical to start a new group," Buttolph said. The Buttolph farm is located on one of the oldest homesteads in the county. Buttolph, originally from Los Angeles, Calif., is a young family man. He flashes a quick and friendly grin as he talks over a steaming mug of coffee.

"I've been on this farm for seven years, supposedly in semi-retirement. We were living in Gulfport when I had a heart attack so we decided to move out here."

"I built the house myself from lumber here on the farm. Sort of a modern log cabin, you might say. Someday I plan to screen the front porch, but like everything else, it's just a matter of money," he smiled.

A huge stone fireplace, cold now, provides a comfortable gathering place for the Buttolph family, Joe, his wife, and children, Steve, 13, Linda, 4, Jolene, 6 1/2, and Susan, 1 1/2. An expert carpenter, as indicated by the burnished and glowing walls of the house, Buttolph also constructed the other farm buildings, an egg cooling and brooder house and a machine and welding house.

The three chicken houses were constructed by Buttolph at a cost of $1,500 each. "That should be paid back in two or three years," Buttolph said.

"The houses are 30 by 100 feet and house 1,000 chickens each. Only two houses are in use now, but the third is ready. They are pole constructed and covered with chicken wire. The north end is covered in the winter to keep out the wind," he added.

Buttolph uses a hanging feeder which doesn't allow the chickens to get in and scratch the feed out. This type feeder can also be raised as the birds grow so they just get to the feed. A central water feeder with a continuous flow of water runs through out the house. A six to eight inch floor litter of sawdust covers the floor.

"The chickens are fed approximately 400 pounds of feed a day including a sprinkling of oyster shells every afternoon. I use a mixed 18 per cent protein feed put out by the Co-op," Buttolph said.

The lights are turned on in the houses at 8:30 a.m. for a 14-hour day. After the eggs are gathered, they are washed in a rotary egg washer for five minutes at 115 to 120 degrees, then dried in another machine before starting in a 55 to 60 degree egg room until picked up by the Co-op truck.

"I converted an old air-conditioner to take the humidity out of the egg room air. A regular egg cooler puts humidity in the air, but that wouldn't work on this humid Gulf Coast," Buttolph grinned.

"It cost $1,750 per 1,000 chickens just to bring them to a laying age, but they are paying their feed bill now and $500 a week over that. I'm still looking for a decent profit. It will take two or three years to pull over the investment lump," he said ruefully.

"Eventually I believe the egg industry will be entirely Southern. We can produce eggs for 28 to 30 cents a dozen which is cheaper than anywhere, except the Midwest, where the chicken farmers produce their own grain."

"The industry is much more applicable to our climatic conditions and we have more freedom than the West. And to top it all, I've found that living expenses are cheaper here, too," Buttolph declared.

TOP QUALITY—Steve Buttolph helps his father run the egg drying machine. After the eggs are washed on a rotary washer they are run through the nylon brushes in this machine for a quick drying job.

Pass Oysters Reported Good

If condition of Pass Christian's oyster reefs are any indication, Hancock County's 1959 oyster crop should be one of the best yet.

The Mississippi Seafood Commission held its inspection tour Tuesday of the Pass reefs, largest natural one in the world, and proclaimed that a bumper crop is in prospect. It estimated that reefs will be open from 30 to 60 days.

The reef extends from just south of the entrance to the Pass harbor to three miles out—just short of the area used for power dredges which have not been allowed in the area for 10 to 12 years.

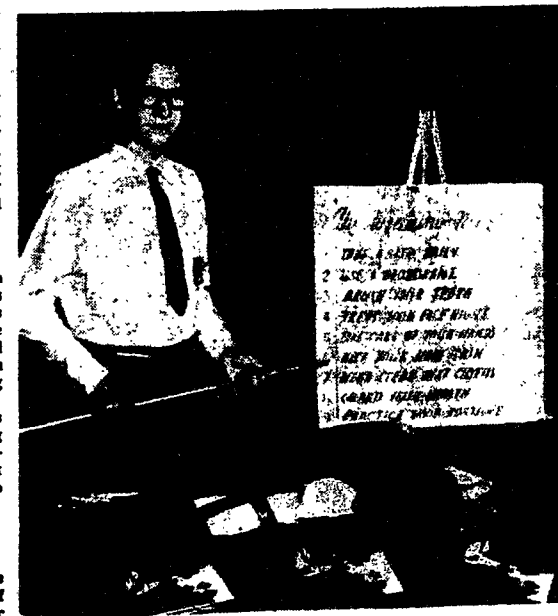

Inspectors made 10 drags with their dredge and in each case found the oysters to be well developed and extremely large for this time of year. They also were more numerous than usual. Much of their prolific growth is attributed to the fact that the conkers have been kept down through use of fresh water.

On the tour were Chief Inspector Clarence Canaan, Perry Gautier, commission secretary; Mayor Francis Hursey, Alderman at large Charles E. Wood and Reed Winstead, Deputy Inspectors Levi Sprinkle and Martin Crews who also is captain of the Uranus on which the tour was made; Farnell McKay, editor of the Tarpon-Beacon, and John Ladner, crewman.

Fernandez Ends Recreation Cruise

Following a recreational cruise in the Japanese Island Sea from July 23-30, Robert P. Fernandez, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Fernandez of 104 Nicholson Ave., aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Lexington, has returned to duty with the U. S. 7th Fleet in the Western Pacific and continued participation in this summer's Far East midshipman training.

During the nine-day inland sea voyage, two ports-of-call were visited.

STAR JUDGE—Charles Smith of Sellers won first place in the state and southeast district with his 4-H cooperative business demonstration during the State 4-H Club Congress at Mississippi State.

Willie Ladner Reappointed To County FHA Committee

Reappointment of Willie Ladner of Route 2, Perkinston, for a three-year term beginning July 1 as county committee member for the Farmers Home Administration of Hancock County is announced this week. Ladner was named in July, 1958, to fill the unexpired term of the late Thomas W. Dossett.

Ladner has successfully operated a Grade A Dairy farm at Necaise Crossing for 18 years, getting his start through a loan from the FHA with which he purchased 15 dairy cows. He has now increased his herd to 50 and owns 227 acres of land, 80 of it improved with bahia grass. He plants an additional 30 acres of oats each year.

Max Stone, county supervisor for FHA, says Ladner's practical experience enables him to make a real contribution to the County Committee's actions when they receive loan applications. Serving with him during the coming year will be Horatio Hartel, a dairyman of Sellers community and Russell Chapman, associated with Hancock Bank, Bay St. Louis.

A Farmers Home Administration County Committee serves every agricultural county in the country. All loan applications must be approved by the committee before funds can be advanced. The committee also helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy livestock and machinery, to finance annual operating costs to improve buildings and fences and to purchase land.

The Agency also lends money to farmers for their non-profit associations to establish and carry out approved soil and water conservation practices, as well as for installing and improving irrigation and farmstead water supply facilities.

CREDIT CAREFULLY

It is not a substitute for credit to buy goods only when some results in much unhappiness. There is a big difference in credit used for farm purposes and credit used for consumption.

plan together for their needs.

Agree among yourselves on how and where credit should be used.

According to economists, the wise use of credit can help you attain a desirable standard of living. Poor use of credit often results in much unhappiness. There is a big difference in credit used for farm purposes and credit used for consumption.

Farm credit helps produce an income in excess of the amount borrowed; consumer credit is spending your income before you get it.

One of the main advantages of families planning together is that many items bought for the home may add greatly to farm income. Plumbing and electrical equipment are important to both farm and home. Make sure that you can distinguish between necessities, needs, wants - then spend accordingly.

Farmers who have income only on a seasonal basis should be careful about installment buying, often it is not good. The time and expected amounts of your income should influence your repayment plans.

Just remember, a loan that is good for the home must also be good for the farm, and a loan that is good for the farm must also be good for the home.

COTTON NOTES

Put high quality lint cotton in the bale before you sell it. This in the long run, will make you more money.

Have your cotton ginned where you can get free sampling and free Smith-Doxey classing. Farmers with "A" cotton will need a market card from the local ASC office, a green card and a warehouse receipt from an approved warehouse before selling cotton.

You can sell your A or B cotton to anyone. Check the price. If the CCC price is higher on A cotton than you can get on the market, sell to CCC.

"B" growers can put their cotton in the CCC loan and redeem it within a year, or they can sell to the highest bidder. For more information on selling your 1959 cotton crop, see your local ASC office or your local cotton agent.

SOIL TESTING

Now is the time to send in samples of soil to be planted this fall. By sending your samples now, you will allow plenty of time for your soil to be analyzed and recommendations returned to you before planting or fertilizing time.

Remember soil testing takes the guess work out of fertilizing your crops. If you follow the recommendations of a soils test you won't put too little or too much fertilizer.

Building Permits

Building permits issued in the office of City Commissioner of Public Utilities J. Cyril Glover during the week ending Aug. 11.

Curtis Asher, erect dwelling on Lot 26, Citizen Street, $3,000.

Earl Morris, add porch to dwelling at 415 Thomas St. $400.

Beat 5 JP Vote Check Set Friday

All Beat 5 justice of the peace candidates have been subpoenaed by Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Lader to appear at 9 a.m. Friday at the office of Clerk of Courts for a special recount of the Beat 5 justice of the peace votes.

Mrs. Bea Georgi, candidate for one of the beat's two justice posts in the primary election Aug. 4, petitioned Clerk A. C. Mitchell as provided under Sec. 3169 of Mississippi Code of 1942 to examine the contents of each box in the presence of the clerk.

The County Democratic Executive Committee denied a recount to Mrs. Georgi when she petitioned on the basis of her low vote in the primary election.

Mrs. Georgi stated that she does not want a recount in order to try to get into the second primary, but only to see that a correct vote total was given the other candidates.

She said that she knew of several cases where a ballot was counted which had only one vote for a J.P. candidate instead of the two required by law.
